A Year at

SOUTHEAST HIGH

With Its Spirit . . .

SCHOOL

Friendliness . . . and Tradition

Adding zest and spirit to a pep assembly is the job of the cheerleader. Petite Barbara Reeves displays her agility during a rousing yell.

The fact that SE just made the first touchdown in the Football Preview September 8 explains the excitement and pride registered on the faces of Pat Ford and her fellow Sparket members.

This is the

Each time you hear the opening strains of "Oh, Southeast High School is the school for me—There is no other place I'd rather be," each time you stand at attention with your classmates as the flag is unfurled, each time you see our beloved principal and coach appear at assemblies, you know that all this is your heritage. This is the true spirit of Spartanland.

Never in the eleven-year history of SE has the student body been more closely unified in school spirit than this year. This unity has great meaning, for through unity there is strength, cooperative effort for achievements, peaceful relations, happiness and fellowship, and above all there is the ultimate of effort, success.

SE's band helped to open the Oklahoma State Fair by marching downtown with 70 other bands September 24.

Enthusiasm is never lacking on a bus with pep club girls along. Ellen Staton, Rebecca Hales, and Diana Browder enliven the trip to Chickasha by singing the school song.

Spirit

"This ought to 'raise' school spirit!" quips Larry Clayton as he and Danny Miller prepare to hoist a Spartan letter jacket up the flag pole.

Donning their "SE mums" and adding the finishing touches to decorations on the car, Pam Kennedy and Sharon Sylvester prepare to join the homecoming parade. Brightly decorated cars followed the SE band through a section of Capitol Hill, October 13.

Primping for friends (especially the male kind) is common practice in any high school. Karen Mackey makes good use of the journalism office mirror.

Friendliness

In classrooms, in activities, we worked and learned together. We ate lunch, went to meetings and games, and studied together. Each day we learned a little more about getting along with people.

Out of this, friendships developed, deep and permanent, resulting in the all-important feeling of "belonging," an imperative need of every human being.

SE's halls hum with the throb of everyday life as students pursue different dreams, ambitions, and desires. They turn the hollow building into something alive, something almost human.

Gary Barton, Sybil Graystone, Kathryn Ball, and Larry Clayton enjoy the last few minutes of their lunch hour with a friendly chat.

Janelle Campbell didn't realize how many friends she actually had 'til it came her time to furnish transportation to a ball game. She and Sharon Sylvester contemplate their problem; namely, how to squeeze one more passenger into the tiny Fiat.

Mr. Snyder lends a helping hand to Ben Hunter as the auto mechanics student tries to coax his car to run.

Players and spectators alike respectfully observe the playing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" as the annual Football Preview got under way.

Easter bunnies never go out of style. Dana Kelly, working at a nearby variety store, treats a young customer.

"Man, but some seniors get big-headed!" exclaims Lu Ellis Brown. Olen Lane agrees as Kenneth Alexander tries in vain to fit her cap on Ralph Griffin's head.

Tradition

Footprints are now beginning to wear in places at Southeast in this its eleventh year. Its worthy traditions, its ideals of honor, the loyalty of its constituents, its outstanding achievements in a great variety of activities have won for SE the place of honor and prestige which it enjoys among city and state high schools.

In addition to the Spartans who have brought recognition to our school academically and sportswise, every student who has crossed SE's threshold has made his mark in contributing to its heritage. We have paid homage to the old traditions as well as establishing néw ones in this progressive, forward looking school.

"Cowabunga, and all that kind of stuff." Pledge Linda Hankins wincingly salutes under the stern gaze of pledge mistress Pat Ford.

Traditional when sock hops are held in the gym are shoeless feet and piles of shoes belonging to who knows whom?

Administration

Our teachers and administrators provide the sympathy, the understanding, and the enjoyment that make our high school days unforgettable.

During the painful process of growing up, we especially value the patience and tact of Southeast's faculty. The result is a happy and an effective school

These Key People Promote

DR. MELVIN W. BARNES
Superintendent of Schools

SCHOOLS ARE GROWING ENTERPRISES!

Few of us are aware that Oklahoma City schools are bulging at the seams with 65,998 students attending classes every day. Two thousand two hundred sixty-two teachers and 98 schools, plus some 232 administrative positions are required to provide city students the best education possible.

Several hundred counselors, nurses, librarians, office clerks, and secretaries are listed on the school payrolls. Around 600 cafeteria employees and 297 custodians complete the roster of school personnel.

Oklahoma City is fortunate to have a superintendent and school board who recognize the seriousness of operating this rapidly growing school system. Our students and citizens should be proud of and grateful to these civic minded people who give so much of their time and energy for the betterment of our schools.

School Progress

Spartans will be forever grateful for the leadership we have enjoyed during our high school years. Our administrators' pride in Southeast and loyal support of every phase of school activities are overwhelming.

Under Mr. Mayes' direction, SE has shown marked improvements. He has played an important part in directing this year's $150,000 construction program.

Additional faculty members, a wider choice of subjects, and greater opportunities for students are a few of the projects he has enthusiastically worked to implement in his three years here.

Mr. Mayes and Mr. King actively participate in professional organizations, where they are recognized as leading educators in Oklahoma City's school system.

Alert to the needs of the school, and to their profession, our principal and vice principal are the biggest assets claimed by Southeast High School.

These jovial, congenial fellows personify school spirit at its best. Their tireless efforts for the betterment of our school are an inspiration, not only to teachers and students, but to the entire community.

STERLING MAYES
Principal

Noted for his warm, sparkling personality, Mr. Mayes (better known as Mr. Spartan) is a familiar figure in the halls, and at ball games and events in Spartanland as he greets his constituents.

DEE KING
Vice Principal

Mr. King possesses a thorough understanding of school problems. Supervising teachers' records and reports and assisting students with their problems are only part of his wide responsibilities.

While These Work Behind the Scenes

Our counselors are always on the alert, ready to help SE students adjust their personal and school problems. They also supervise enrollment and testing.

The office is the hub of the school. Keeping school financial records, checking attendance, operating the PBX board, providing supplies and assisting with all school routine are the duties of the office workers.

ANNA GRACE KELLOGG: B.S., Central State College; M.Ed., Oklahoma University, Counselor.

JUANITA CATES: B.A., Central State College; M.Ed., Oklahoma University, Counselor.

Preparatory to administering tests, counselors spend a great deal of time studying procedures and skills involved. Miss Cates, Mrs. Kellogg, and Mr. Berry confer about a profile sheet.

DOROTHY KINCAID, Financial Secretary, Secretary to Principal.

MARY WILSON, Attendance clerk, Secretary to Vice Principal.

NITA JO KUTZ, Receptionist-Secretary.

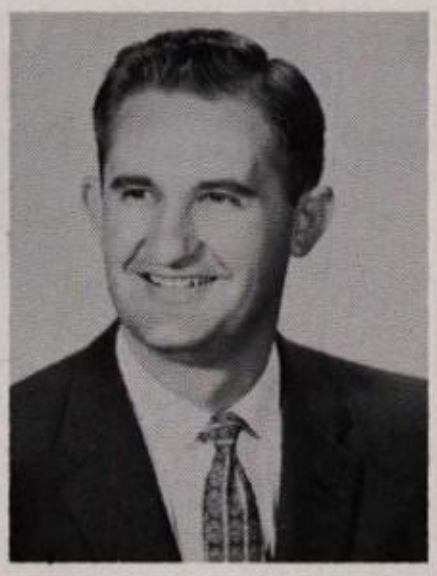
FLORENE McCLURE, School Nurse.

LILA FAYE KATSAKIS, Registrar.

Department Heads Plan in Vital Fields

Supervising and aiding teachers plus checking out state textbooks and materials are responsibilities of department heads. These people are always on the alert for new aids to teaching. They attend many meetings and workshops to bring back new concepts and techniques for improving instruction at Southeast.

EVA MAY BAKER: A.B., Southwestern State College, Weatherford; M.A., Oklahoma University. Math.



BILL LEIKAM: B.M., Oklahoma Baptist University; M.Ed., Oklahoma University. Music, Activities Director.

MARJORIE ALLEN: B.S., M.A., Oklahoma University. Social Studies.

MARY NELL ECKSTEIN: B.A., Central State College; M.A., Oklahoma University. Business.

ELIZABETH STALEY: B.A., Central State College; M.A., Oklahoma University. English.

FRED HOLLOWAY: B.S., M.Ed., Central State College. Industrial Arts.

JAMES POWELL: B.A., Central State College; M.A., Oklahoma University. Art.

MARVIN SHIELDS: B.S., Central State College; M.A., Oklahoma University. Athletics.

LAVERNA BOYLES: B.F.A., B.A., M.Ed., Oklahoma University. Math, English.

Students Explore the World of Science

New laboratory equipment and accelerated courses have made science a major department at SE. An advanced TV science seminar, physics, chemistry, biology and life science for eighth graders round out the science curriculum.

A record number of research projects were entered in the annual Science Fair. Advanced students attended symposiums with trained scientists as consultants.

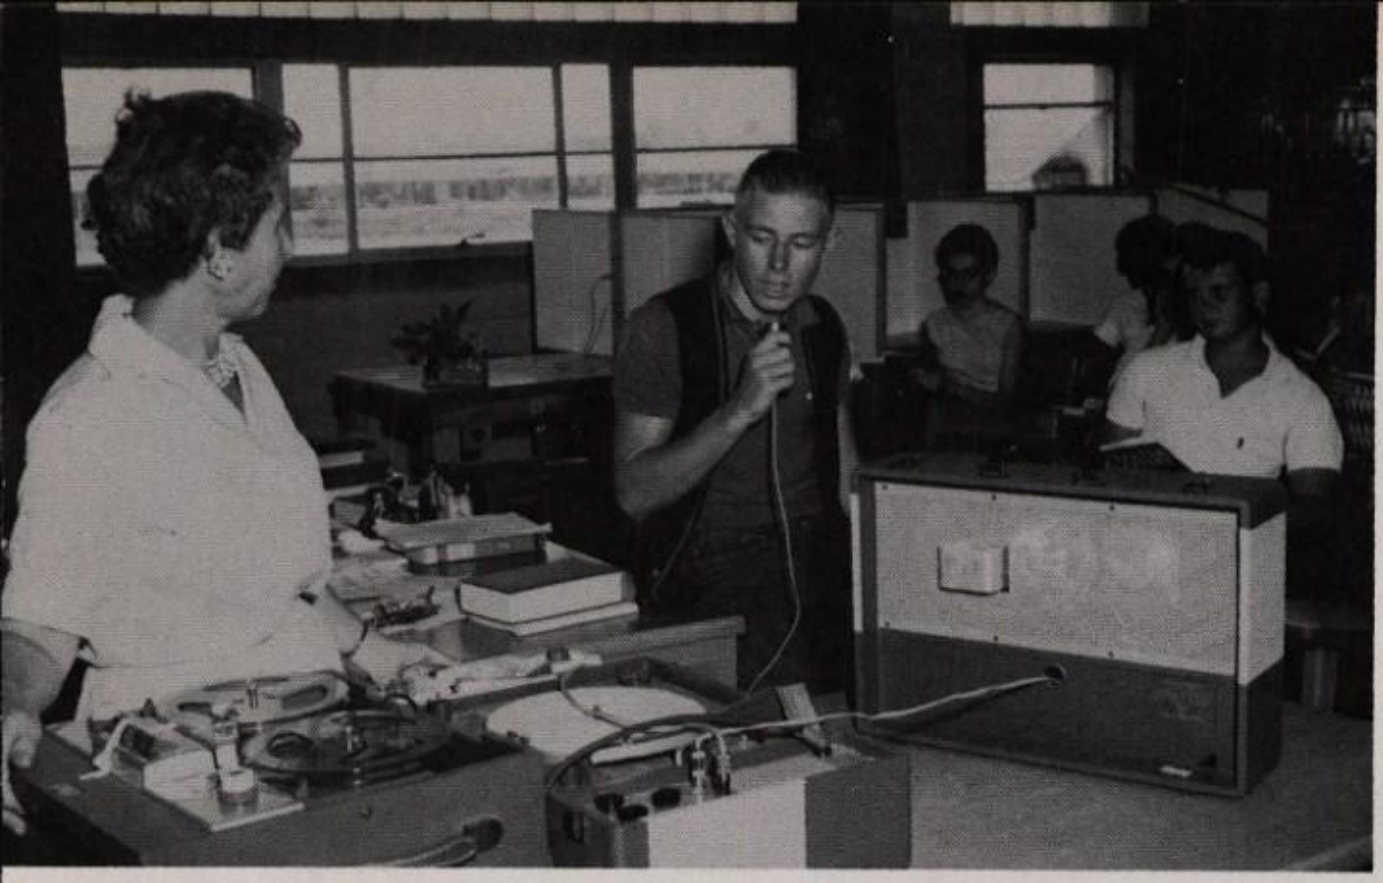
HELEN I. PHILLIPS: B.A., Central State College; M.Ed., Oklahoma University. English, Social Studies, Math.



"Parlez-vous Francais?" Junior Bill Culbertson absorbs his daily French lesson via the new aural-oral method of language presentation by Mrs. White.

Linguists Learn in Laboratories

Spartans may soon be glibly chattering French and Spanish. Provided with microphones, tape recordings of their own voices, slides and a teacher in a modern language laboratory, students make marked progress. Mrs. White utilized techniques she learned in a summer language institute at OU, to which she won a fellowship.

French was offered for the first time, and enrollment in Latin classes was doubled.

LOREE WHITE: A.B., Oklahoma University. Spanish, French.

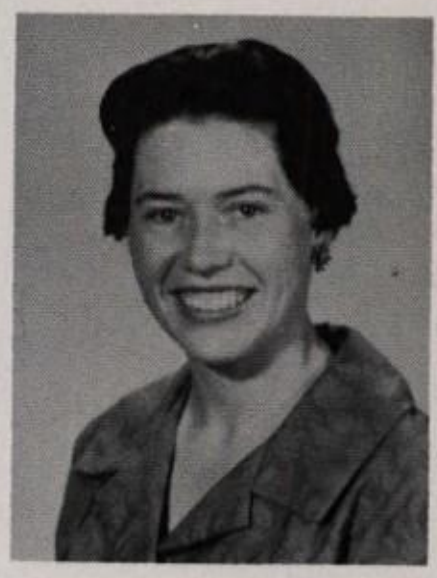
MARY ALICE BAKER: B.S., Oklahoma University. Speech, Debate, English.

MARY ANN GRANTHAM: B.F.A., Oklahoma University. English, Speech, Play Production.



MARTHA GILES: B.F.A., Oklahoma University. Music.

Some people have all the luck! Mrs. Eckstein, head of the business department, won a free trip to the Caribbean last summer.

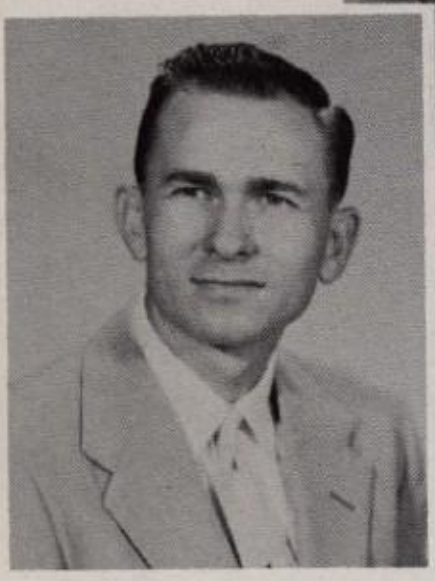
Business Classes Stress Efficiency

Typing and shorthand classes are crowded as students prepare for employment. Accuracy as well as speed is stressed as skills are developed.

Bookkeeping and business machines provide classes the opportunity to learn mechanics of up to date office management. This preparation enables students to have wider knowledge and awareness of the business world they may enter.

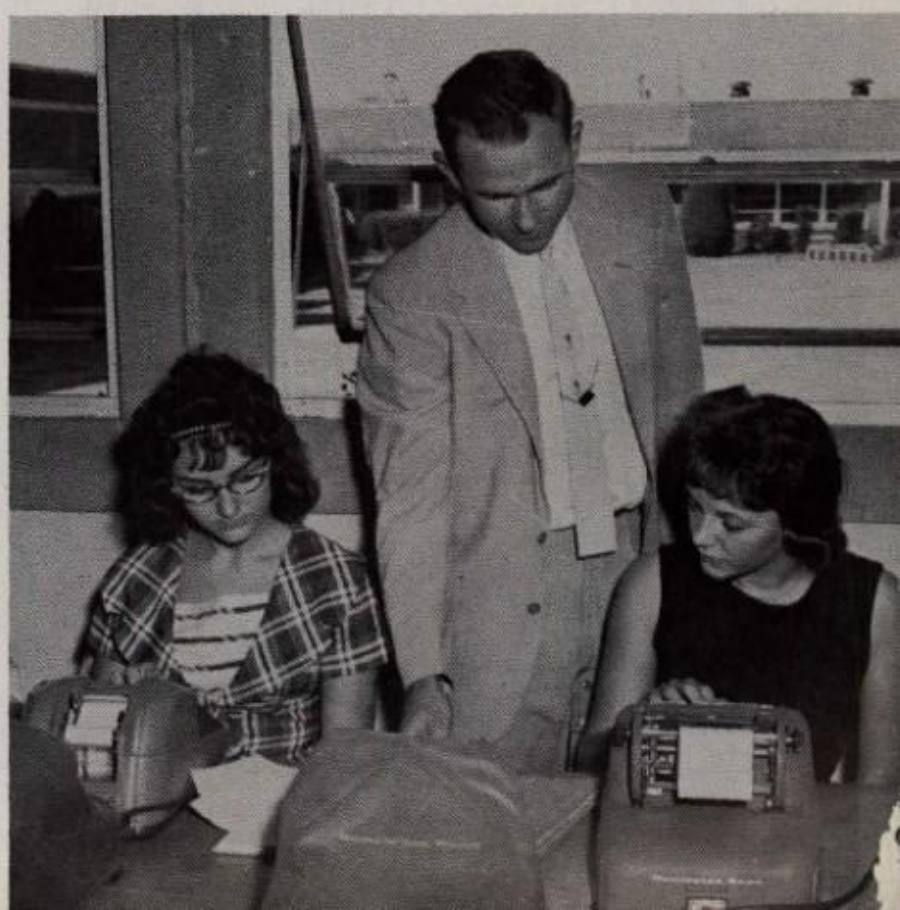
BOB TAYLOR: B.A., East Central State College, Ada. Science, Audio Visual.

ANITA GILL: B.S., M.S., Oklahoma University. Shorthand, Typing.



HAROLD LUNDY: B.S., Oklahoma University. Typing, Bookkeeping, Business Machines.

Learning to operate the Remington calculator requires concentration. Glenda Johnson, Mr. Lundy and Janice Stowe confer over a problem in business machines class.



English Invaluable as a Tool for Living

To give confidence in the use of the English language is the aim of SE's English department. For learning and living satisfactorily, one must be able to communicate.

Vast changes have taken place in the English curriculum in the City schools. A new course of study has been compiled and introduced this year. Miss Staley implemented the thematic approach in a senior English class, while Mr. Lyon experimented with the daily newspaper in teaching grammar and sentence structure.

HAZEL CARSON: B.S., M.A., Oklahoma University. English.

FRANCES SMALLEY: B.A., Oklahoma State University. English.

MARY ELIZABETH BURDETTE: B.A., Oklahoma State University; M.Ed., Oklahoma University. English, Journalism.

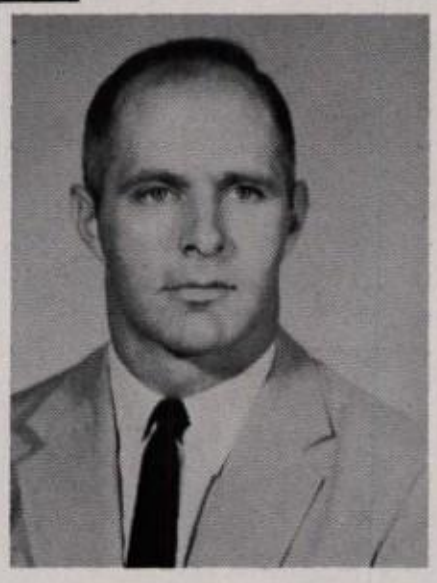
FRED LYON: B.A., Oklahoma University. English.

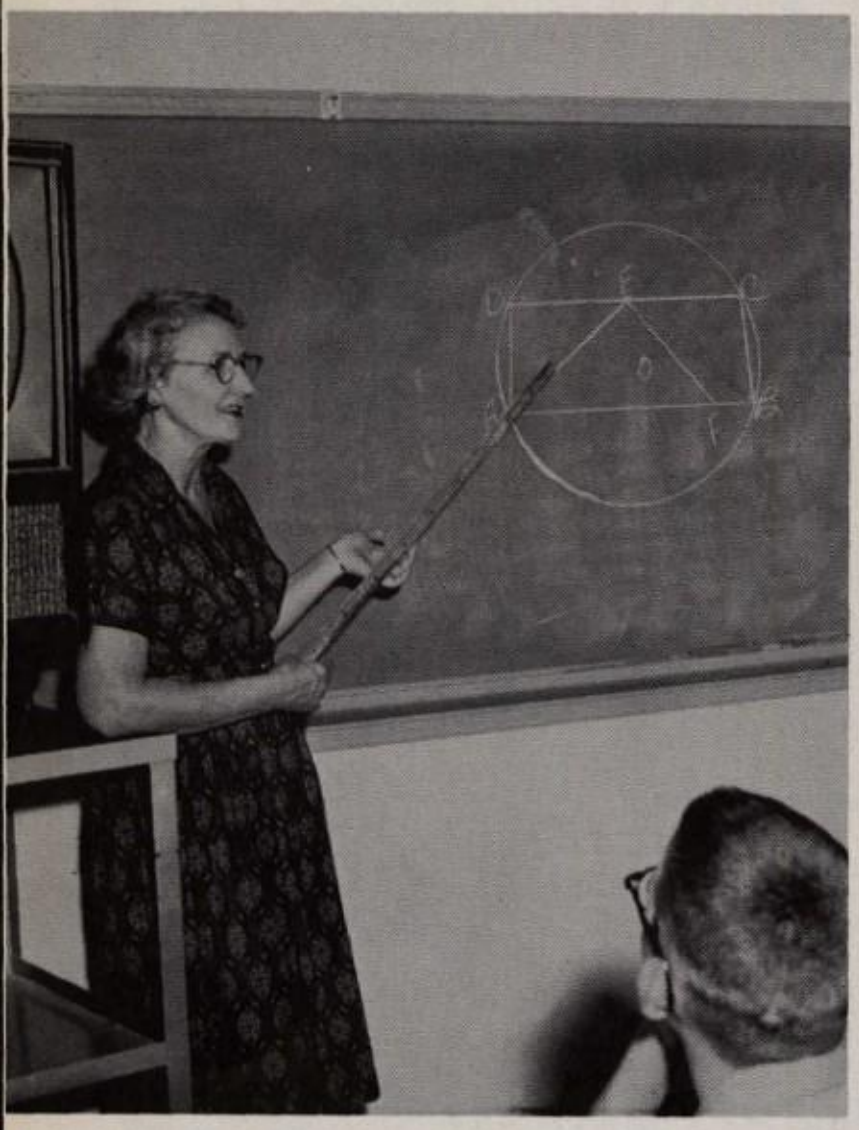


DALE RANSFORD: B.A., Oklahoma City University. English.

Whoever thought he'd be taking a unit test over "Peanuts"? Actually, Mr. Lyon contrived successful grammar and composition lessons by using the Daily Oklahoman in his sophomore classes.

Mathematics — Bridge to Many Vocations

Taking math is more than just learning to work problems mechanically. It is learning to think in orderly fashion. Trigonometry, geometry and advanced algebra are offered here; college preparation is stressed in these courses.



Mrs. Eva Mae Baker demonstrates the construction of a _____ , and _____ . It's a _____ . She teaches geometry.

JEAN ROBBINS: B.A., Oklahoma College for Women. Social Studies.

DOYLE CREWS: B.A., M.Ed., Oklahoma University. Math, Science.

DEAN CHOATE: B.A., Oklahoma State University; M.A., Oklahoma University. Math, Athletics.

LORRAINE PITTS: B.A., M.A., Oklahoma University. Math.

MARY BAYZ: B.S., Oklahoma City University. Math.

Electives Encourage Self Expression

"Brother, you've had it!" gasps Sandra Smith as her neighbor John Rhodes unsuspectingly puts the finishing touches on his portrait. Miss Jane Boyers contemplates her victim.

PAUL WHITE: B.S., Oklahoma Baptist University. Math, Science, Physical Education.

JEAN WINTERS: B.S., Oklahoma College for Women. Physical Education.

Homemaking, music, art, and industrial arts afford students opportunities to develop skills and pursue their interests. Drivers' training and auto mechanics cover course material which may be put to practical application throughout life.

Skillfully finished products in art and industrial arts have won SE much acclaim in local and national contests. Music and journalism students annually take honors in competition. Two classes in psychology were formed this year.

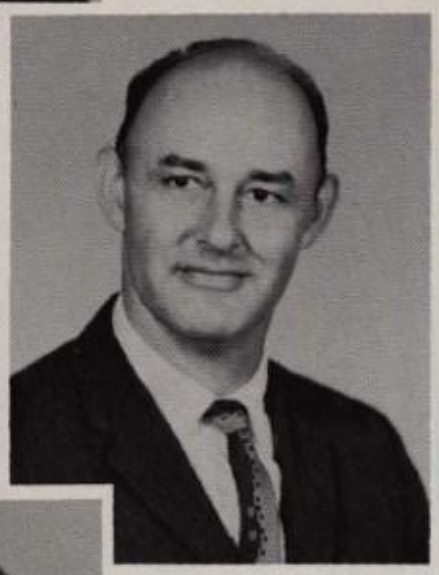
GRACE MOORE: B.S., East Central State College, Ada. Homemaking, Clothing.

Mrs. Windes reminds Carol Holcomb, Nancy Carrier, Betty Partain, and Kathy Culver that the prettier the table, the better the food tastes.

Social Studies Focuses on World Problems

An imperative need of every citizen today is a better understanding of the world we live in. Furthering the students' knowledge of governmental structure, history of the United States, American economy, and international conflicts are some of the goals of SE's Social Studies department.

LINDA ADAMS: B.S., Southwestern State College, Weatherford. English, Homemaking.



E. JAMES FAUBEL: B.A., San Francisco State College; M.Ed., Oklahoma University. Social Studies, Psychology.

ISABELLE J. COX: B.S., Central State College; M.Ed., Oklahoma University. Math, Social Studies, English.

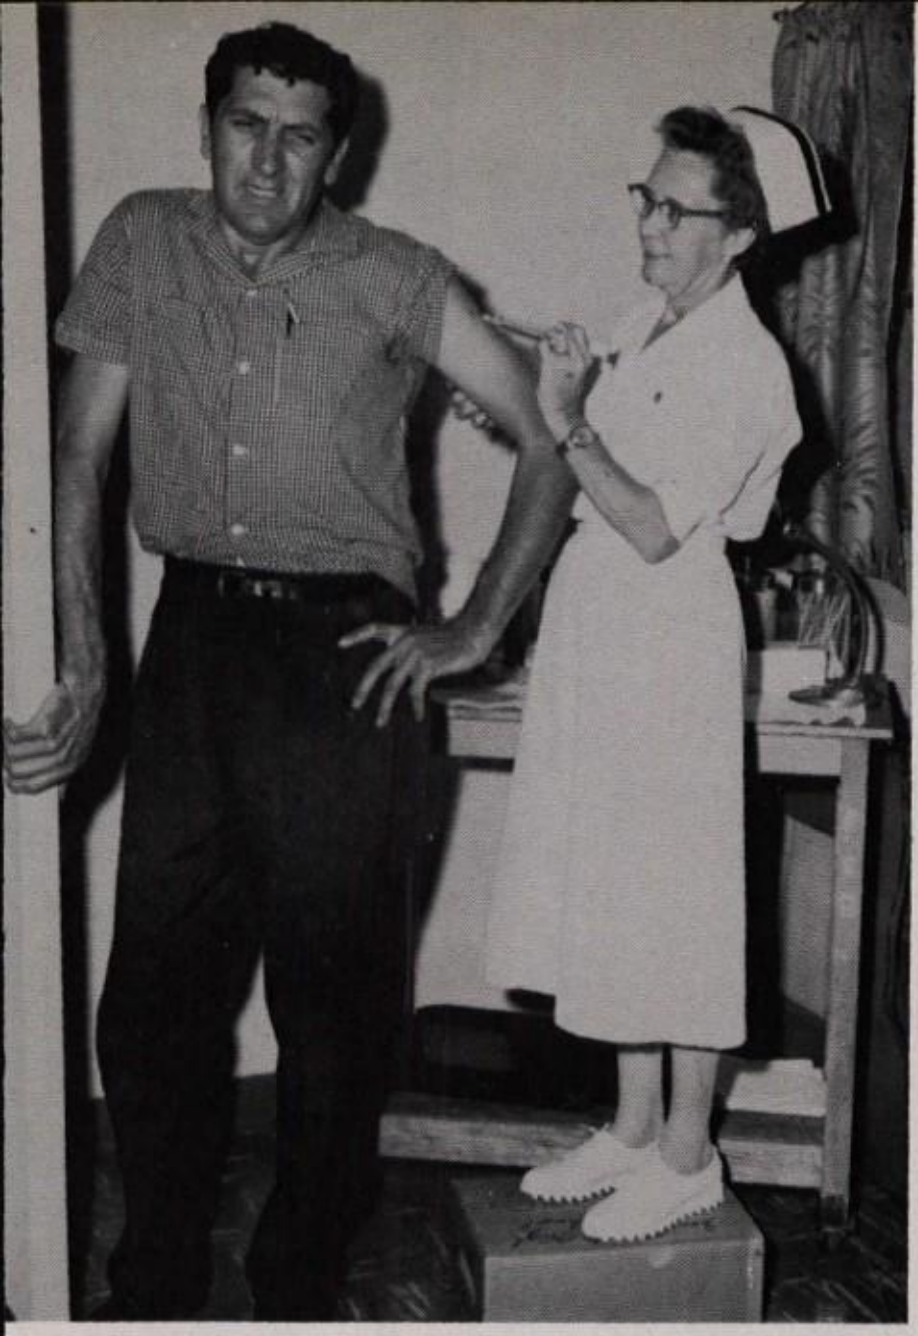
STEVE HOLLAND: B.A., M.A., Oklahoma University. Geography, Social Studies.

A steady stream of Spartans found their way to the book store, with Mr. Holland serving as proprietor.



"Ouch! My feelings are delicate in that arm," moans Paul Laucus as he gets his flu shot. Nurse McClure climbs on a box to administer it. For the first time teachers were able to take flu shots in the building.

PAUL LAUCUS: B.A., Southeastern State College, Durant; M.A., Oklahoma University. Math.

WYNEMA CASWELL: B.A., M.A., Oklahoma University. English.

Teachers' Days Are Marked by Variety

PEGGY J. THURSTON: B.S., Oklahoma University. Social Studies.

Always traditional in room 214 is Mrs. Caswell's bulletin board of current events. (Mostly SE football games). Here, with the help of Carol Adams, she posts prep ratings to assure students we really are no. 1.

Strong Bodies, Healthy Minds — Goals for PE

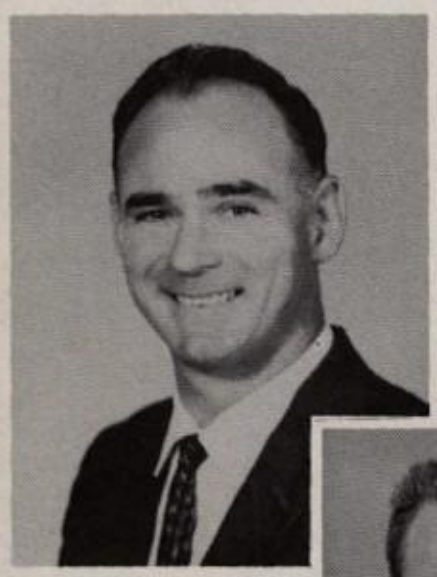
Happy living in a changing world requires an ultimate effort on the part of every individual, and emotional appreciation of good sportsmanship helps qualify students for fuller lives.

Besides bringing better health, physical education teaches teamwork and the fundamentals of various popular sports, which are so much a part of the American way of life.

TRAVIS SMITH: B.A., Oklahoma City University; M.Ed., Oklahoma University. Physical Education, Athletics.



EUGENE DIPBOYE: B.S., M.Ed., Oklahoma University. Physical Education.

BROOKS MOSIER: B.S., Central State College. Social Studies, Athletics.

RALPH PERDUE: B.A., Central State College. Social Studies, History, Physical Education, Athletics.

Competent Staffs Make Best of Problems

CUSTODIAL STAFF: We commend these men for the extra patience and effort they displayed in keeping our building clean while construction was in progress. ROW 1: Terry, Tipps, Clanton, Pierce. ROW 2: McKeen, Wall, French.

"Man, this is . . . uh . . . great?" Mr. Ransford expresses his views on the mob of hungry seventh graders around him, and Mr. Lyon wistfully agrees. These two faculty members braved the elements in the cafeteria while the teachers' lunch room was being renovated.

Due to the $150,000 building program which got underway at SE last summer, the building was in various stages of construction as the year wore on.

Cafeteria ladies labored under the most trying circumstances, as they prepared lunches without benefit of kitchen utilities. The teachers' new lunch room was not completed before Christmas.

Thanks to the tireless efforts of these ladies, hungry students received nourishing lunches on schedule even under trying conditions of remodeling the cafeteria. Organizations

Activities abbreviate the day as we pursue our common interests and render service to the school. It is the educational philosophy of our administration that knowledge comes from experience as well as textbooks, and that all activities are potential adventures in learning. The fun and fellowship we enjoy in belonging to a group help to make us better-rounded personalities.

Approving and granting charters to new organizations, amending the school constitution, and continuing to uphold SE's traditions and high standards, the Student Council serves as the governing body of the school. SC members sponsored welcoming parties for new students, after-game dances, and many benefit projects. They were in charge of selecting Mr. and Miss Personality and the Spark of the Spartan.

Committees worked with other city school groups in planning for the '61 National Student Council Convention slated for Northwest this June.

Southeast Student Council members hosted a thirsty mob of seventh graders who consumed 300 cokes in seven minutes in an after-school welcoming party. The planned program was lost in the shuffle.

Communications is a wide field with new promises. As student journalists, staff members of the Shout and Spartan feel they have been a significant part in making Spartanland history as well as recording it.

Qualities of responsibility, accuracy, dependability and self reliance developed in journalistic endeavors are invaluable in all future pursuits.

Pushing to beat a deadline becomes second nature to publications staffs. Reporters and yearbook staffers attempted to accurately portray the activities and personalities of the year, supply press releases, and try to achieve good public relations for Southeast.

Glamour girl editors Ola Mae Stout and Charlotte Hefner soak up printer's ink in the Beacon print shop as the Shout goes to press. Who would imagine that these poised young ladies had just suffered through the tortures of meeting a deadline?

Clubs Serve, Study

The purpose of the Library Club is to bring together the student library assistants in order to promote better library service for boys and girls of the school. All activities of the club center around this goal, including their membership in the inter-city library club.

Besides their serious study of the Bible, Bible History Club members enjoyed skating parties, a Christmas banquet, and a spring hayrack ride.

Largest Pep Club in SE's History

CLYDINE CORNETT

Enthusiasm reigned supreme this year as 130 members compiled the largest Sparket Pep Club in SE's history. The girls chartered buses four times during football season to support the team through conference and state play-off games.

With formal pledging banned this year, the girls met requirements for membership by selling programs at games, making Christmas toys for Children's Hospital, and taking a final test over the Pep Club Constitution.

Athletics

History was made in Spartanland as activities centered around "king football." December 9 the Spartans swept to the state play-offs, and school display cases bulged as coveted trophies were added.

The excitement of the athletic events will long be a very real part of us. Understanding, comradeship, and high standards of sportsmanship are fostered on the field of play.

SPARTANS RACE TO STATE FINALS IN BEST SEASON; COACH CHOATE TAPPED FOR STATE COACHING HONOR

The Spartan footballers, enjoying their best season ever, won eight straight games, tied for the conference championship, and journeyed all the way to the Class "A" state finals. Five Spartans placed on the All-Conference team, and two earned All-State ratings. Coach Dean Choate was selected to command the South team in the All-State game.

HARDING—After falling behind 16-0, the Spartans roared back to defeat the favored Eagles, 42-22, and to become the top ranked team in the state Class "A" polls. Bateman passed for 249 yds. and completed TD tosses to Taylor and Miller. Crews scored twice on runs of four and 51 yds.; Bell crossed from the four, Bateman, from the one. Miller caught three aerials for conversions.

CHICKASHA—Once again SE fell behind, 20-8, before downing the Chicks, 34-26. Spartans' devastating air attack netted 272 yds. and two touchdowns. Bell led the scoring parade with three tallies. Crews followed with two; Miller added two conversions.

CLASSEN—Spartans smashed the hapless Comets, 44-0, for their third victory. Again Bell was the leading scorer with three touchdowns. Miller, Lusk, and Culbertson managed the other six-pointers for SE. Bell, Wall, and Lusk added the extra points.

JOHN MARSHALL—Using their passing attack sparingly, SE handled the Bears, 32-14. Yeargain scored the Spartans' first TD by recovering a fumble in the end zone. Bell ran the next one over from the three. Bateman then loosened up and hit Wall twice and Miller once for SE's last three tallies. Miller ran over the only two-pointer.

CENTRAL—SE squeaked by the Cardinals, 20-12, for their fifth straight win of the season. Bell netted 12 points on two TD's for the Spartans; Miller snatched a Bateman pass for the other six-pointer. Crews added the only conversion.

ST. MARY'S—Striking for 32 points in ten minutes, SE trounced the Rockets, 44-14. In perhaps the oddest play of the season, Bell grabbed a screen pass from Bateman and galloped 89 yds., but failed to score. In their eagerness to down the last defender, the wave of blockers surrounding Bell caused a tangle of humanity that sent Bell tumbling. Taylor, Crews, Miller, Wall, Stansberry, and Lickliter notched touchdowns for SE; Crews, Bateman, and Wall accounted for the extra points.

DEL CITY—Moving equally well on the ground and in the air, SE sailed by the Eagles, 28-14. Bateman ran TD's of 33 and two yds., passed 50 yds. to Taylor for another. Bell scampered 59 yds. for the other tally. Crews and Bell added two-pointers.

EIGHT STRAIGHT VICTORIES NET SE A TIE FOR CAPITAL CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP

NORTHEAST—The Spartans' 44-20 victory sacked up their first berth in the state playoffs and at least a share of the Capital conference championship. These were both Spartan firsts. Bateman teamed with Taylor on passes of 20 and seven yds. for two tallies; Bell ran two over and Crews added one. Hallock intercepted a misguided Viking aerial and raced back 35 yds. for SE's final touchdown. Crews, Wall, Bateman, and Miller added conversions.

GRANT—The Generals jumped to a 14-0 lead and fought off a determined Spartan eleven the second half to defeat SE, 26-16, and stop their winning streak at eight. Taylor and Wall scored TD's on passes from Bateman; Miller and Taylor earned the extra points.

ANADARKO—The Spartans proved they hadn't lost their winning ways as they trounced the Warriors, 44-6, the following week. Bell led the scorers with three touchdowns; Miller followed with one six-pointer and three conversions. Crews and Burton, on a pass interception, claimed the other tallies. A Bateman-Taylor pass accounted for the other two points.

McGUINNESS—SE ended its regular season in fine fashion by running up the biggest score of the season, 52-14, over McGuinness. Crews scored twice; once on a 70 yd. punt return, once on a 13 yd. pass from Bateman. Bell scored twice on runs of six and 47 yds. Taylor, McKillips, and Wall contributed one apiece. Crews, Bell, Miller, McKillips, and Taylor managed conversions.

EDMOND—In the first play-off game in school history, the Spartans came from behind to down Edmond, 28-20. During the first half and part of the third quarter, the Bulldogs halted SE's passing attack and held a commanding 20-6 lead. But from that point on, it was SE all the way as they ran around Edmond's weakened ends for three TD's and victory. Taylor, Bateman, Miller, and Crews notched the six-pointers, while Bell and Miller added the extra points.

WOODWARD—In the semi-final round of the play-offs, the Spartans tallied quickly in the first period, played scoreless ball for three full quarters, then exploded for two touchdowns in the last three minutes to win, 20-0. Bateman, Culbertson, and Bell earned the TD's, and a Bateman-Taylor pass accounted for the conversion.

SEMINOLE—The powerful Chieftains struck for three touchdowns and a safety in the first 13 minutes and drove on to a 30-16 victory over SE for the Class "A" State Championship. Hampered by the rain that fell throughout the game, the Spartans were never able to put forth a serious challenge. Bell scored SE's first TD on a 13 yd. pass from Bateman. Miller added the other touchdown and both conversions, all on Bateman passes.

JH COMPILES 2-5-1 RECORD
LOSE THREE GAMES BY ONE TD

Even though the 1960 Jr. High football team only compiled a 2-5-1 record, it is not completely indicative of their play. Losing three games by the margin of one touchdown, the record could have been reversed.

Coach Purdue remarked that if the boys continue to improve each year, by the time they are seniors, SE should have another fine team.

ROUNDBALLERS, GETTING LATE START, WIN TEN OF LAST FOURTEEN GAMES

Coach Travis Smith diagrams the "3" play which the Spartans used effectively throughout the season.

After dropping their first seven games, due largely to the late start of the gridmen who participated in state playoffs, the Spartan roundballers won ten of their last fourteen games and finished with a respectable 10-11 record.

SE's first win of the season came at the expense of conference foe John Marshall, 53-51. The Comets of Classen were next to find that the Spartans had come to life.

After a setback at the hands of Central, the Spartans downed McGuinness, 49-47, Grant, 38-35, and then avenged the earlier loss to Central, 36-31. These two victories, against arch rivals Grant and Central, Capital Conference champions, were the high points of the basketball season.

SE was knocked out of the Edmond Tournament in the first round by Pauls Valley, but followed with victories over John Marshall and McGuinness in double overtimes. Harding, in another overtime, kept the Spartans from extending their streak. SE closed its regular season with victories over Classen and Edmond.

In the regional Tournament the Spartans downed John Marshall, 58-50, in the opening frame, but were beaten in the semi-final round by the avengeful Cardinals from Central.

Robert Taylor and Don Crews led the team in scoring with 13.2 and 9.6 averages, respectively.

In their third year of "A" team competition, the Spartan grapplers compiled a 6-2 record in dual meets and participated in a variety of tournaments. Phil Henderson climbed to second place in the state meet and Don Burton rated third.

The wrestlers, coached by Dean Choate, scored in every tourney entered and placed fourth in the conference clash. In the city meet Eugene Cannon, Henderson, Larry Newell, and Burton all finished third.

More Spartans placed in the regional meet than ever before as Henderson and Omer Floyd rated second place medals. Bobby Crotts and Burton finished third, with Newell taking fourth place.

Newell led the team in individual scoring with 26 points while achieving a perfect 8-0 record.

RECORD NUMBER TRACK PROSPECTS GREET COACH

Although the yearbook went to press before the spring sports were in full swing, track prospects were the brightest ever. Thirty-six thinclads, including six returning lettermen and three conference champs, greeted Paul White as he began his first year as track coach.

Returning champions were Robert Taylor, 440 yard dash and broad jump; Don Crews, 100 yard dash; Mike Yeargain, discus. Other lettermen back were miler Fred Clark, high jumper Ronnie Wall, and hurdler Tommy Bell.

The Spartan tracksters participated in a variety of meets which included the Lawton, Central State, and OBU Invitationals as well as the Conference, City, Regional, and State Tournaments.

TEN LETTERMEN REPORT FOR BASEBALL TEAM

Ten returning lettermen, most in SE's history, composed the nucleus of the '61 Spartan baseball team. Dewayne Murcer, Rayford Kimery, Arthur Lambert, Tommy Oakes, Larry Fulton, Ralph Griffin, Bobby Crotts, Don Givens, Ronald Folsom, and David Chambers had all lettered at least once.

Although the team was short of pitchers, as usual, these boys formed a sound infield and outfield and were responsible for the successful baseball season.

SE GOLF, TENNIS TEAMS CROWD MATCHES, TOURNAMENTS INTO SPRING SPORTS SEASON

Coach Marvin Shields, in his first year as golf coach, was pleased with the fine playing of starters Richie Richeson, Charles Cash, Ronnie Wright, and Jerry Barton. The team played home matches at Trosper and Brookside golf courses, and journeyed to Miami, Oklahoma, for the annual invitational tournament.

Under the direction of Coach Fred Holloway, the Southeast tennis team participated in fifteen matches, plus the Capitol Hill and Lawton Invitational Tournaments, and the State Meet at Stillwater. The team was led throughout the year by returning lettermen Roy Harris, Leon Critchfield, Bruce Magers, Charles Newton, Charles Childers, and Butch Vance.

It was football versus basketball as Harold Stansberry, Don Crews and pep clubber Pat Ford clowned in the yearbook assembly skit which depicted the confusion of the players. December 2, for the first time in school history, a football and basketball game was played simultaneously.

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS

There were many high points sportswise in Spartanland this year.

The trophy case was bulging as our boys brought credit to the school. Loyal supporters of the teams enjoyed seeing the boys and coaches rewarded by assembly presentations.

School spirit reached an all-time high as students followed teams throughout the seasons. Through the medium of sports, the student body was unified. Results of the sports endeavors were reflected in other phases of school life; the entire school program was strengthened.

"And he's out at home!" shouts catcher Tommy Oakes as the Spartans go ahead to beat the Classen Comets, 10-4.

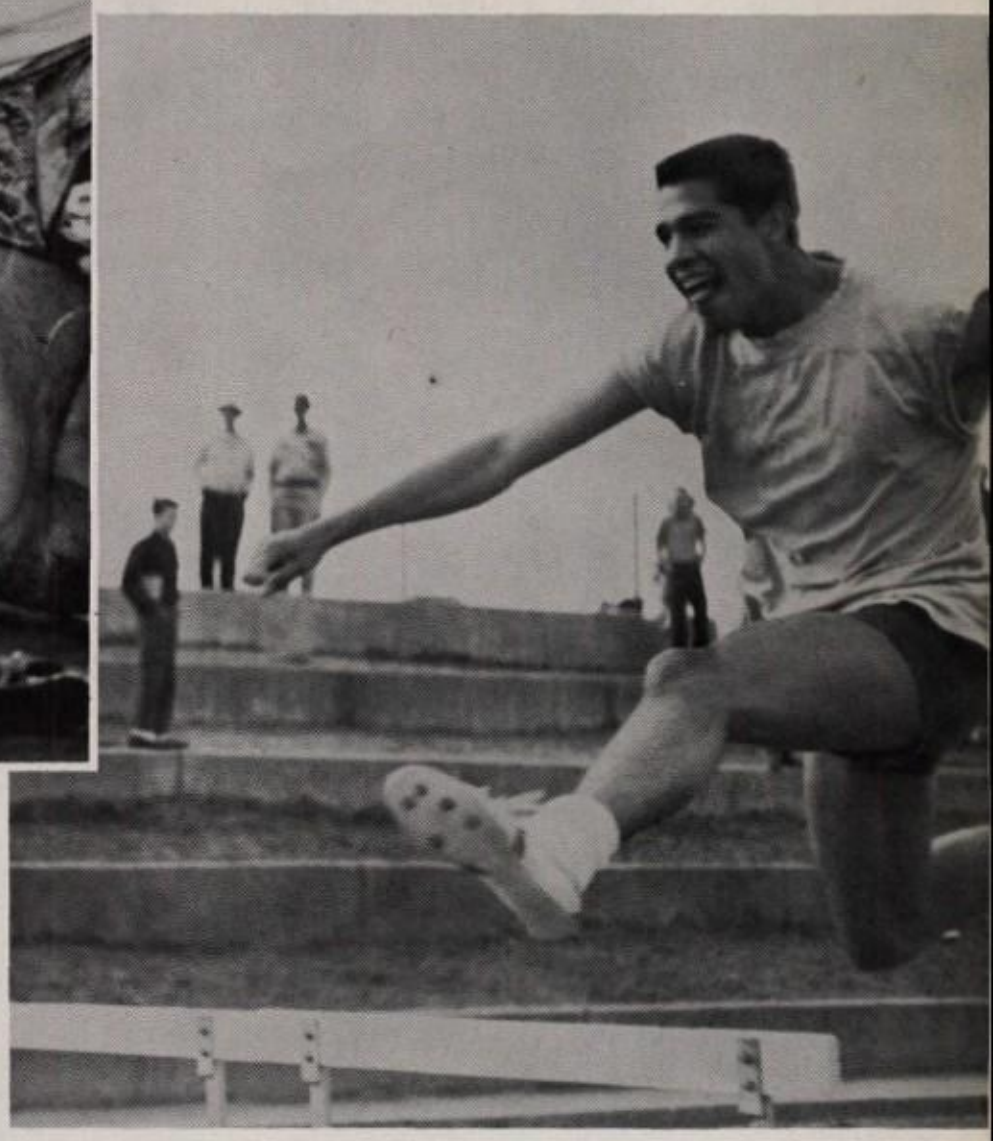
Don Bateman, All-State quarterback, receives the Wigwam Wisemen Association's All-American rating from Coach Choate in an assembly. Bateman was cited by the Sporting News Magazine.

Go to your marks . . . Get set . . . BANG! Phil Lusk leaps from his starting blocks in the 220 yd. dash in city competition on the NW track.



Robert Taylor clears the final hurdle as he places third in this event in the All-City Track Meet, March 28.

NEW GIRLS' GYM GIVES BIG ASSIST TO SPORTS PROGRAM AT SOUTHEAST

A girls' gymnasium, part of the new $150,000 addition, was completed in December, simplifying the scheduling of intra-city games.

The softball team played four games, winning one to Capitol Hill. The team was handicapped because of a lack of pitchers.

A better season was recorded by the volleyball team. They played nine games and won five, beating NE, Classen, Grant, NW, and Capitol Hill.

Because this book went to press before basketball season was well underway, a recap of the games was impossible.

School Life

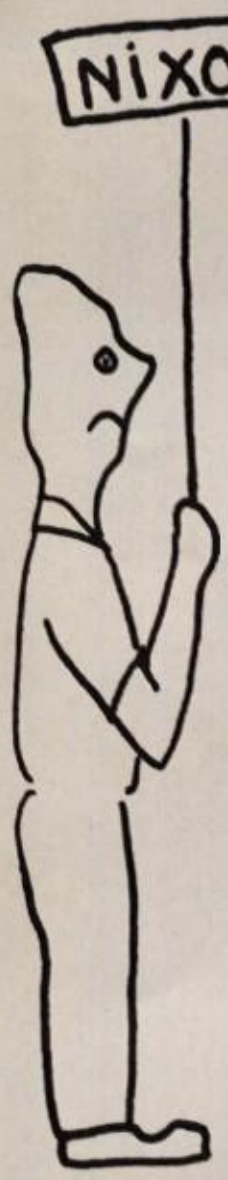
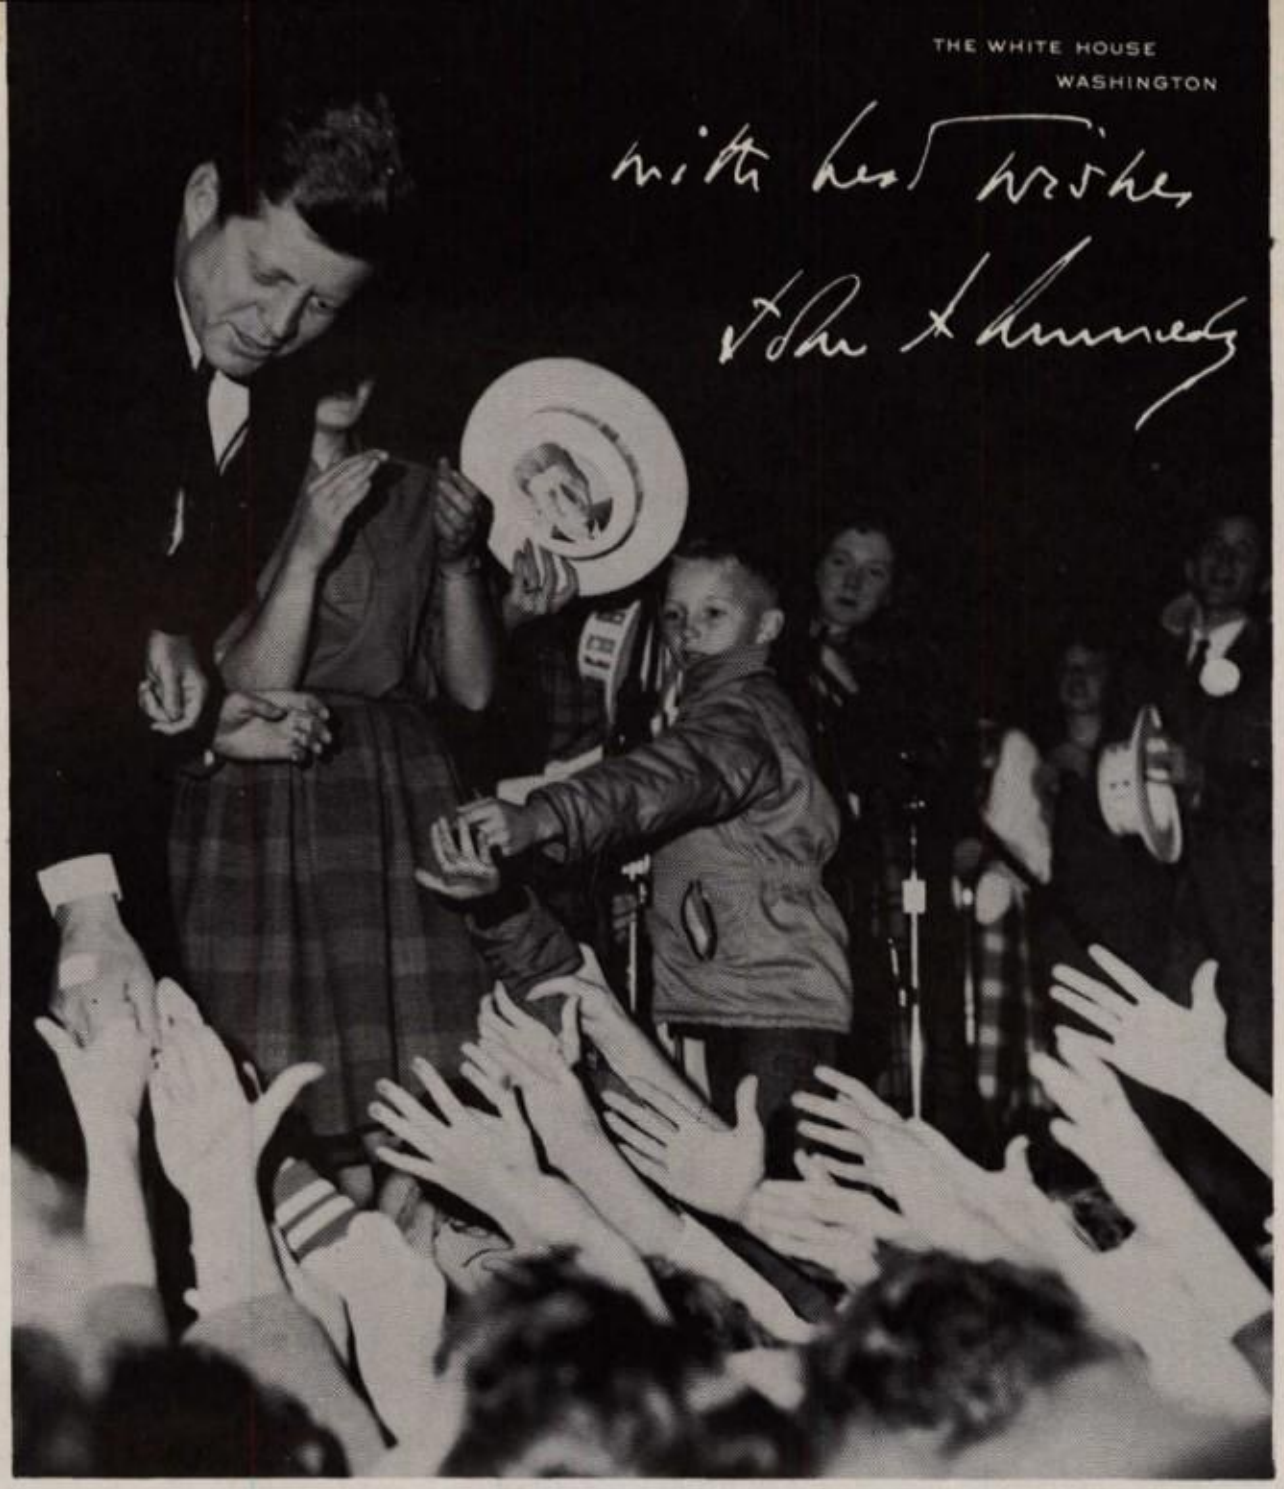
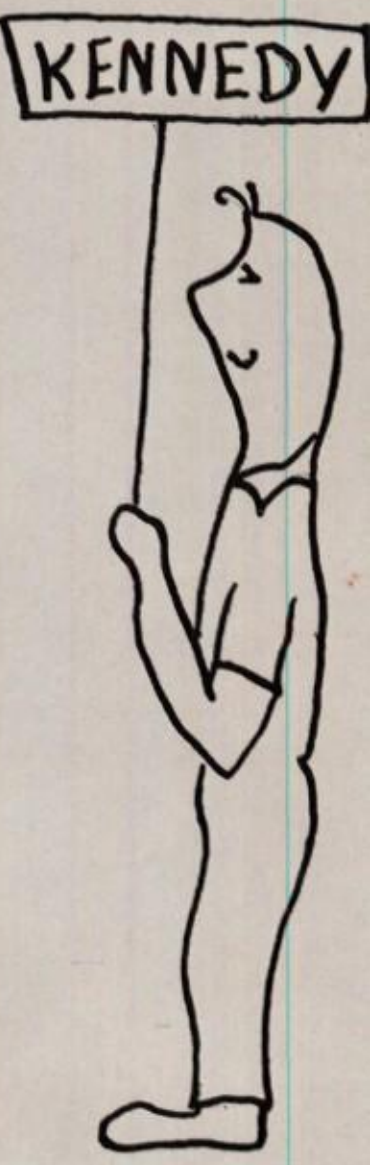
Believing that knowledge comes from experience as well as textbooks, and that all activities are potential adventures in learning, we pursue our common interests.

The wealth of fun and fellowship we enjoy, the feeling of belonging acquired through activities and organizations in which we participate, and the efforts we make to maintain and enrich school traditions all contribute to the lasting loyalty we shall always feel for Southeast High School.







The highlight of the fall season nationwise was the presidential campaign. This fetching photograph of President Kennedy, as he appeared at Reding Shopping Center, November 3, was snapped by staff photographer Robert Carter. Upstretched hands belong to SE students. (note letter jacket). The editor cleared unusual obstacles to get President Kennedy's autograph after the inauguration.

One of the many phases of spring fever is picking out a new prom formal. Jan Winstead and Terah Hewett muse over ruffles and filmy chiffon in a local department store.

Faces of the Seasons Provide

Through rain, sleet, or snow, Sparky (Ricky Co-hee), braved the weather and sparked our team to victory.

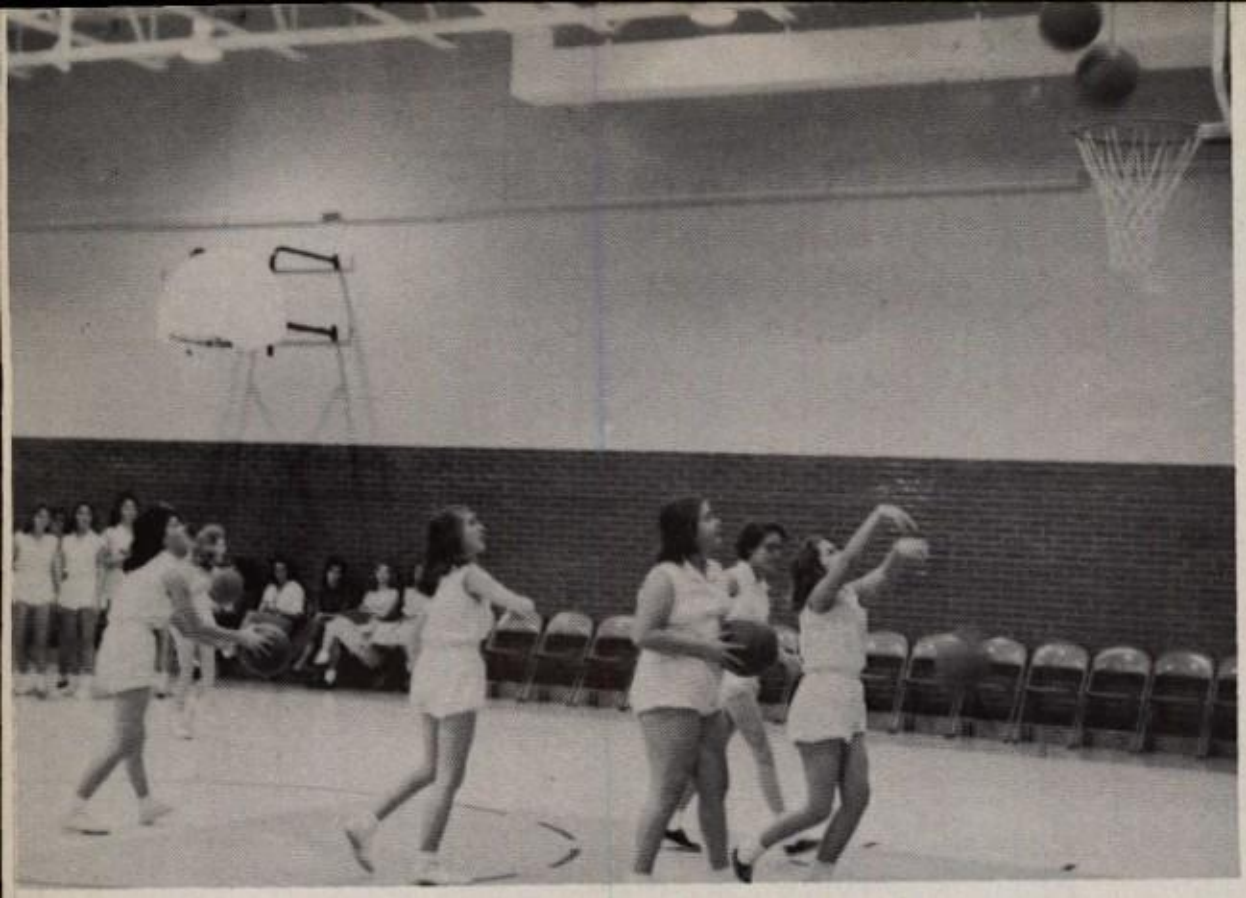
Everchanging Diversions for Spirited Spartans

In a special assembly, football tri-captains Robert Taylor, Don Bateman and Mike Yeargain presented Mr. Mayes with tokens of their proudest achievements: three trophies—Conference, Regional, and State Runner-up.

In the same assembly, Mr. Choate was honored as SE's ideal coach by various organizations and the student body. Representative Margaret Box presented him with a gold watch inscribed "Our Coach—1960."



Gym and girls' sports classes wasted no time in moving into the new girls' gym last January. Also used as a social center for dances and parties, the construction cost was estimated at about $100,000.

Quill and Scroll, an international Honor Society for journalists, was organized here in March. Eligible are juniors and seniors in the upper third of their class who have done superior work in publications. SE charter members are: ROW 1: Glenda Magers, Shirley Dickerson, Janelle Campbell, Charlotte Hefner. ROW 2: Roy Harris, Jackie Mayberry, Tommie Johnson, Ola Mae Stout, Kathryn Ball, Don Crews. ROW 3: Twila Sieg, Margaret Box, Clydine Cornett, Barbara Reeves, Dana Kelly.

Accent Is on Learning

as Talents Are Developed

Larry Clayton surprises would-be "TP'ers" as he emerges, gun in hand, from his "house." The annual student council campaign assembly was highlighted with skits such as this one.

Linda Hankins and Larry Clayton practice sales talk on Mr. T. D. Stephenson, as they attempt to persuade him to place an ad in the Spartan.

Deciding who takes the car is easy when you flip a coin! Ola Mae Stout, sponsor Miss Gill, Roy Harris, and Tommie Johnson were among those who attended regular Monday night meetings at NW Classen. Meetings were called to schedule activities for the National Student Council Convention, held in Oklahoma City this year for the first time.

SC Hosts National Meet,

President Jill Harris performs the honors on newly chosen Sparkler Buddy John Sneden. Other candidates and escorts were Robert Brown, Janet Brand, Beverly McCurdy, and Mark Brown. Crown bearers were Jeanine McKillips and Terry Shupe.

From behind a mountain of presidential ballot stubs peers our Mr. Mayes. After entering him in a local radio station's "Favorite Principal Contest," students wholeheartedly showed their enthusiasm by collecting the stubs, which counted as extra votes when pasted on post cards. Mr. Mayes rated in the top three in final tabulating.

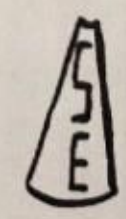
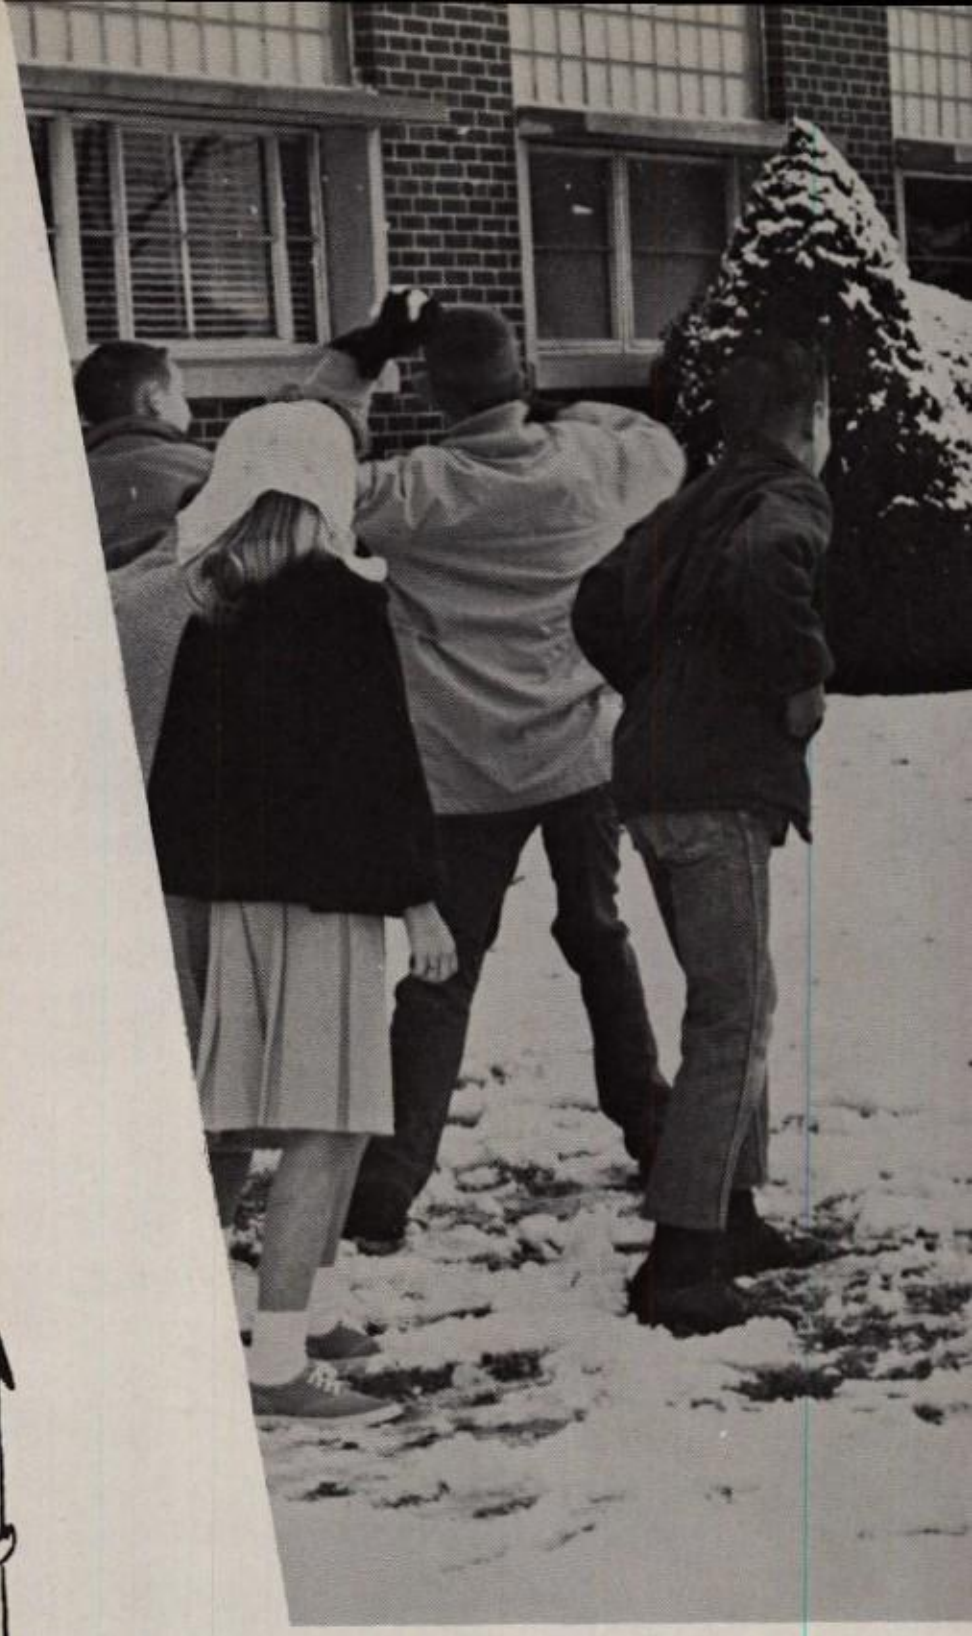
Spartans Go "All-Out" for Principal

SE's choir put in an appearance on Channel 13 February 23. The girls' trio, Ellen Staton, Melva Williams, and Nancy Carrier were featured on the program.

Glenda Magers, Don Crews, and Shirley Dickerson discussed SE's academic and activity program December 3 on KWTV's "Students in Action" program.





Classes

Man's dreams and aspirations for the future are symbolized by the universal stress on education as a means of preparedness. Today's students in classes are the citizens of tomorrow—a tomorrow charged with momentous problems and responsibilities.

From the time Southeast students gather for a gabfest before the 8:30 bell to the end of sixth hour at 3:30, a rich, full day has transpired. Varied activities comprise our curriculum; limitless possibilities are afforded those who are willing to learn.

Since people are the most significant part of any organization, it follows that the most important part of Southeast is the teachers and students who daily occupy our classrooms.

Three hundred sixty-seven seventh graders entered SE's doors September 6, comprising the largest seventh grade class in the school's history. Alternating between music, speech, and art, students took a full schedule of English, math, social studies, gym, home economics, and shop. Getting adjusted to a six year high school was sometimes painful, sometimes fun, but always interesting.

"How!" says Chief Jerry Blackburn to "Pilgrim Father" John Weil. Kay Rhodes and Lela Cothran peer from behind at the peacemakers in a seventh grade Thanksgiving presentation.

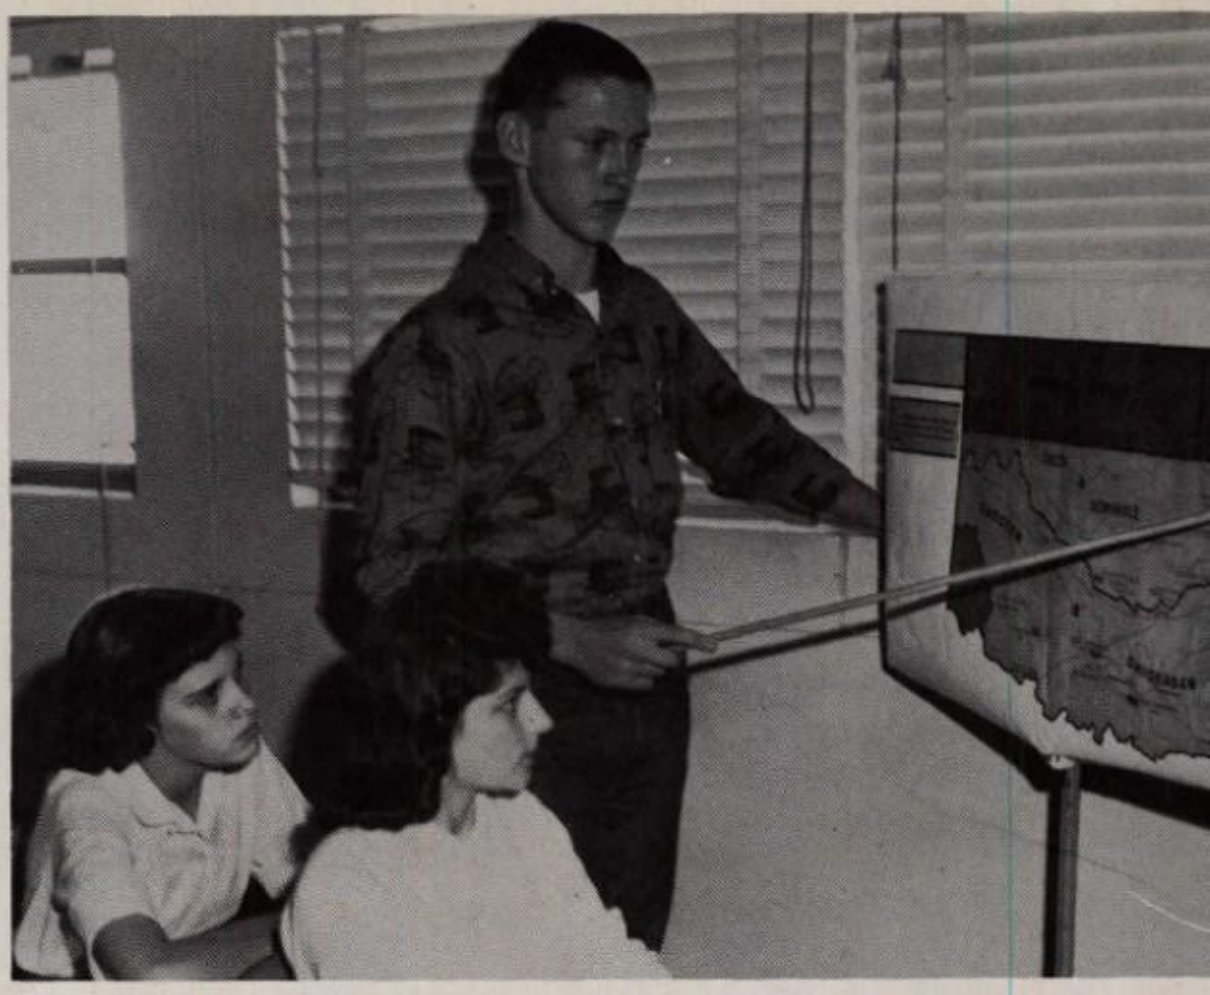
Two hundred sixty-five freshmen launched their way into senior high school, the last lap in their public school life. Everyone took Oklahoma History. A wider variety of electives was available. Girls were now eligible to pledge the Sparket Pep Club. Although SE is a six year school, freshmen feel there is some transition from junior to senior high school.



Freshmen Glenna Merrill, Ronnie Sneden, and Jacqueline Patterson study about the Five Civilized Tribes in Oklahoma history class, a ninth grade requirement.

The one hundred and ninety-four juniors broke tradition by voting to adopt standardized rings. As usual, juniors were preoccupied with planning the prom, raising money, working on committees for decorations, invitations, and programs. Careful thought was given to curriculum planning for the final phase of high school.

Thoughts of fancy formals fill the minds of every girl as that magic time, the Junior-Senior Prom, nears. Janice Winstead has a hard time making up her mind at a local department store.

Seniors

One hundred-sixty seniors "sweated" completion of the 36 credits required for graduation. College bound students readied for college entrance by taking ACT tests and conferring with counselors.

Other seniors contemplated employment services and job preparation. It was hard to realize that twelve years of school life were being terminated.

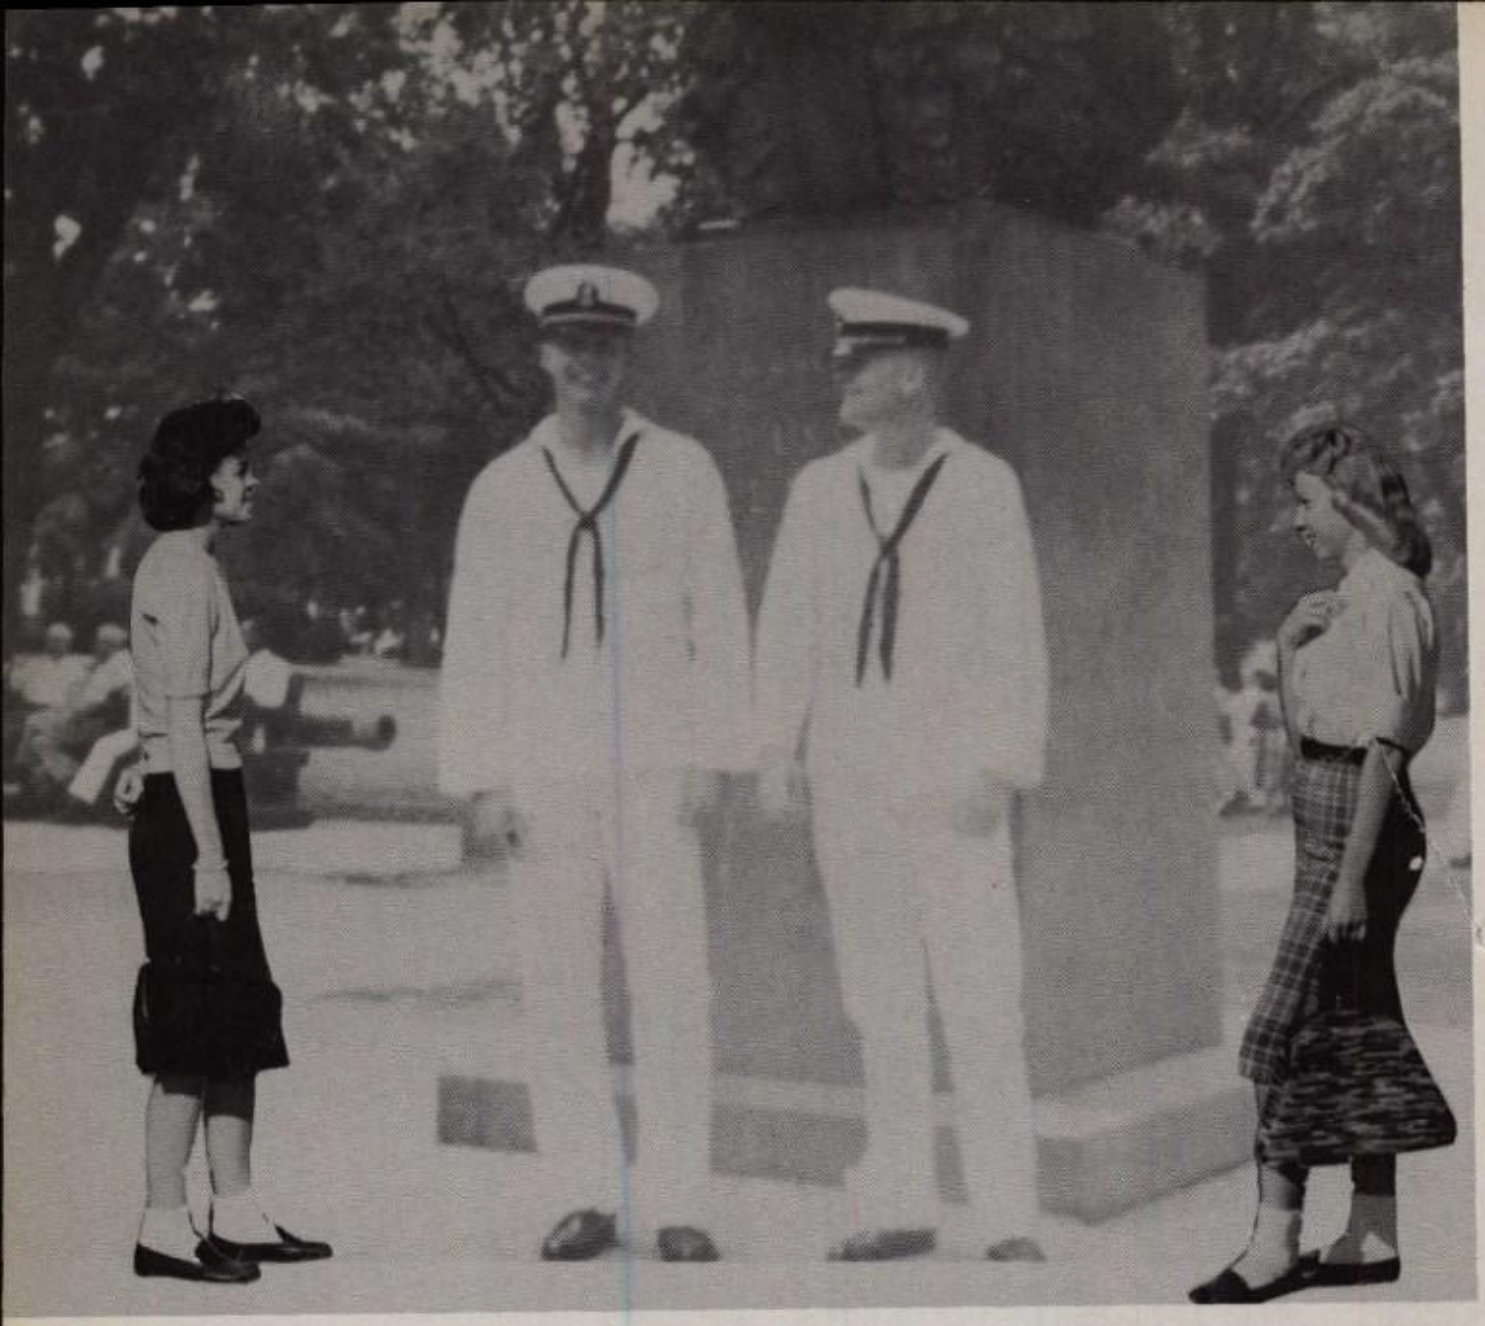
Senior Highlights

The joy and sorrow of leaving school for the last time give us an empty feeling inside. In our last few months we try to crowd as many activities as possible into our busy routine.

We view our friends, teachers, and school with increasing concern as we keep thinking, "This is our last pep assembly, our last basketball game, our last prom."

Although prospects of college, careers, and marriage are exciting, the fact that we are ending an important period in our lives is sometimes just a little frightening.



Earlene Jones and Lu Ellis Brown speculate on Annapolis cadets during the Washington trip; this is the first year SE seniors have visited Annapolis on the annual trek. John Prichard, on the left, is a '57 grad. Each girl had an escort for the tour of the Naval Academy.

VIP's for a Day—Weyman Whittaker, Mike Turner, and Phillip Henderson took over duties of city officials December 13, a day when city students annually occupy their offices.

Report card day accidentally fell on SC designated Western Day, March 29. Consequently, "Hick" Devilliers took advantage of his hardware to make sure he received passing grades from "Annie Oakley" Caswell.

"A toast to Mr. Dussell, our guest," says Mr. Frank (Weyman Whitaker) as Mr. Dussel (Roger Spence) gulps his drink all at once. The Van Dann and Frank family, consisting of Deanna Sylvester, Earlene Jones, Walter Phillips, Marjorie Stone, Charlotte Hefner, curiously stare at their Jewish friend who has come to them for refuge from German persecutioners during World War II.

This scene is from the senior play, "The Diary of Anne Frank," presented March 16-17. The production's two-story set and record-breaking costume changes made it a unique presentation.
